

KILLER SHARK EATEN BY VICTIM'S FAMILY

Story about a killer shark has surprising ending. It attacked a 41-year-old man in Croatia two weeks ago.

Mr Johnson was on holiday with his family at that time. Instead of pleasant relaxation, they experienced a tragedy. Mr Johnson was not afraid to swim far from the shore, as the Adriatic Sea in northern Croatia is not considered to be dangerous. The only thing he had along was his swimming shoes, in order to protect his feet from sharp prickles of the sea urchin. However, he was unexpectedly attacked by the shark. As this incident happened close to the shore, whole family as well as other tourists could clearly see Mr Johnson dying. Surprisingly, the shark did not eat him, it only bit him twice and floated away. Mr Johnson's wife and children were horrified and planned to finish their holiday ahead of schedule.

The tragedy caused publicity and interest of the media. This interest increased strongly the day after, as death shark was found on the beach 10 kilometres away. Surprisingly, autopsy discovered a pair of Chinese swimming shoes. The shark was poisoned by Mr Johnson's toxic swimming shoes and died immediately after the attack. As a suitable revenge, the mourners decided to keep the shark and cook it. A huge banquet was organised and the family invited other tourists and local residents too. "There is enough meat for anyone", said Mrs Johnson and chewed on shark fillet. Unfortunately, the banquet was accompanied by a small Greenpeace demonstration. They wanted to ban the import of Chinese swimming shoes.
